The Australian Constitution Centre

To promote our Constitution to all Australians, CEFA, the High Court and the Australian Government are establishing the Australian Constitution Centre.

The Australian Constitution Centre Exhibition is planned to open soon in the High Court of Australia, Canberra.

The Centre will support education about the history and operation of the processes of government under the Australian Constitution.

The Australian Constitution Centre will develop educational initiatives targeting three key audiences who will visit the physical and online presence:

- Primary and secondary schools
- Undergraduates and first time voters
- Public outreach

In its first five years the Australian Constitution Centre will measure the expected improvements in Australian's attitudes towards our democracy.

Will you invest in education for our children: the future of our democracy?
